

American Association of University Women/PVP Interest Groups

Our members enjoy a robust offering of interest groups - some for intellectual stimulation, some just for fun. Members meet regularly in small groups to share ideas and learn more about their common interests. Some popular activities have more than one group, and some are limited by space or require a short waiting list. We encourage the formation of new groups; if you would like more information about any of our current Interest Groups or are interested in starting a new interest group, contact the Branch Interest Group Coordinator.

Specific meeting dates, times, meeting topics, and contact person can be found in each issue of Coastlines newsletters.
